The October meeting will be 6:30 PM Oct. 7, 2025
at Macs Tap and Table
25470 Point Lookout Rd,
Leonardtown, MD 20650

Upcoming events

Festival of Bones:

- SCORES is open and closes 10/29/25 at 11:59 PM
- Planning is moving forward, I have a list of things that need to be figured out yet.
- Still have several open positions
 - Field Steward
 - Baronial Court Herald
 - Cleanup Coordinator
 - Trick-or-Treat Coordinator
 - Parking Coordinator
 - Friday Setup Crew
 - Sunday Teardown Crew
- Her Excellency needs help with the fundraiser lunch on Saturday. Mostly to distribute the lunches.
- Asking if anyone with any sort of skeleton decorations (even if it's skeletons that don't make sense like an octopus) is willing to lend them to help with the inside and outside decor.
- Mistress Etain is going to start working on prizes. We've only kind of discussed the design, so if you have ideas please let me know. She hopes to have them ready by War of the Wings, so I may need some help in picking them up since I am likely not attending that event.
 - Currently the plan is to have "A Festival of Bones / Barony of Dun Carraig A.S. LX" and possibly a cross bottony.

So far 47 people registered, 39 for feast, 27 for cabins, 1 camping. No commitments from merchants yet. Will Baronial pavilion be on the field? Probably yes.

No other old business, no new business.

Minister of Arts & Sciences Report

[Mistress Molly]

Both the Leatherworkers' Class and Fiber Arts petting Zoo in July were well received, and one of our new members (Gentle Corey Angleton) was able to craft a leather book cover using the skills from the class.

Our August class (Introduction to Medieval Herbs and Spices - Lady Alexandra ingen Shuibhne and Mistress Rose of Black Diamond) was well attended with nine participants, including one newcomer (Deanna Wheeler).

On September 28th we have a Medieval Dye workshop being coordinated by Mistress Marguerite de Lyon and Dame Emma West.

On October 12, Magnifica Hildegard Bergerin will be teaching an online class on Introduction to Medieval Embroidery. This class will feature an overview of historic stitches and some whimsical SCA variants, a discussion of modern and historic materials and (time permitting) demonstration of at least two historic stitches. While this class is online, the thought is that participants can build on these skills while socializing at the Festival of Bones event.

Dame Laura Graley de la Moore and Mistress Ysabeau ferch Gwalchaved both enjoyed the Fiber Arts Petting Zoo and they've offered to host another session on Saturday at the Festival of Bones. Magistra Sonya Flicker will be hosting dance classes throughout the day and open dancing on Saturday evening. I am still wrapping up additional classes and will post as they are scheduled. I have submitted my quarterly report this afternoon.
